Life Is Temporary

RAMADAN 2027

Write your will this Ramadan

> "It is not permissible for any Muslim who has something to will to stay for two nights without having his last will and testament written and kept ready with him."
>
> The Prophet ﷺ · Ṣaḥīḥ al-Bukhārī 2738

1 Write your janazah wishes
Who to call first, where you want to be buried, who should wash you, what you owe and what you are owed, and where your papers are. About 15 minutes.

2 Draft your will
Name an executor, list what must be paid first, leave up to a third to causes and people who do not inherit, and direct the rest to your heirs by the Qurʾānic shares.

3 Take the draft to an estate attorney and a scholar
The page gives you a typeset draft, not a finished will. A lawyer where you live makes it a valid will.
